Doing their Duty

Scores of Norway Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick. Backache and many kidney ills follow; Urinary trouble, diabetes. Doan's Kidney pills cure them all. Norway people endorse our claim.

Mrs. Julian Brown, living on Danforth St., Norway, Me., says: "I suffered from rheumatism for more than five years. I have been treated by physicians, and have taken a great many remedies in an effort to find relief. About three months ago I was reading the testimonials of different persons who had used Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to give them a trial. I went to Stone's drug store, procured a supply and took them according to directions. I am now using my sixth box and am steadily improving. Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me what no treatment or remedy has previously accomplished and I feel that it will only be a short time before I am entirely cured. I cannot recommend this excellent remedy too highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

A Love That Has Died.

Downy gold of anguish that tears at my soul,
Leave my heart free just to mourn a smile.
Away from griefing that hideth my goal,
Reared there for me of a flicker's guile.
Easter, heart of mine, throbs not so wild;
Sorrow, my brain, in thy sense of pride.
Quiet, my tongue, thou refractory child,
Lisp words of love that I have died.
Al! Were but dead! Yet I live to torment
Unrequited and shorn of my sunshine and joy.
Unrelenting it raves in my heart where 'tis spent,
All my courage is spent in my grieving's employment.
Entrailed is my soul in the longing I feel;
So enmeshing, indeed, is such anguish to know.
That, with all my strength, I cannot raise the steel
To make one final effort, strike one fatal blow.
Awaken, my heart, to a steeper beat.
Art thou to be conquered? Will set up a wall?
Although rocky the pathway, torn are my feet,
I will ever march onward in search of the goal.
Soul of mine, suffering, where is thy grave?
Bigged is it here and sorrow and sin?
Why comest to me now but to bid me wait?
We'll fight one more battle—one battle to win.
But harken! Love's spirit revives in me now;
As upward I gaze at the heavens so blue,
Borne forth from a heart that is loyal and true.
Steadfast heart of mine, beat not so wild.
Stronger my brain, in thy sense of pride.
Quiet, my tongue, thou refractory child,
Lisp not a word of a love that has died.
THE DREAMER.

Golden Rod.

Again thou art here, O Golden Rod,
To lead me from the mire of sorrow;
In every vale you gaily nod,
And every hillside's russet sod
Is graced with your rich color.
A prodigal thou art indeed,
To fling so lavishly
Your gold about our hill and mead—
Supplying every wayside's need—
Thou art, forsooth, too free.
Art thou a heart to wealth untold
For which thou carest naught?
A Croesus, burdened with thy gold,
That thou canst give me the mould
Without regretful thought?
Do you draw each year your interest
From Nature's simple banks,
And fling it about our east and west.
Over the earth's wild general breast
Regardless of the need?
How'er it be, each Autumn-time
The land has wealth to spare;
And 'till the chill November's time
Hath robbed the world of grand—sublime,
Your gold shines every where!

Vote!

A sovereign duty of every citizen should be and is to exercise the right of suffrage. It ought to be an offense against the law of the land for a citizen not to vote on election day.

Vote early.
Don't stay away from the polls with the idea that your man or party is so sure in your particular constituency that your vote is not necessary.
He who can vote and does not exercise the right, is doing a grave wrong to his fellow citizens, is failing in duty to the State.

We repeat, vote. It is a duty you owe to the community. The franchise is a privilege not to be lightly thought of or carelessly trifled with.

A Sale in the Grove.

Saturday, Aug. 29th, the Free Baptist Circle held a sale in the grove of Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Elliot, on the shore of Thompson lake. This is an ideal spot and the prettiest residence for miles around, with everything to make one happy; in the evening the grove was made very attractive by 100 Japanese lanterns, bought by Dr. Elliot, for the occasion. First came the candy table, where anyone could buy all kinds of candies and peanuts, and this was presided over by Mrs. Edna Johnson and Alberta Kemp. Next came the apron table, where anyone could find any kind of an apron they wanted, and this was presided over by Mrs. Nellie Edwards. Next came the table of useful things for the house and this was presided over by Mrs. Sybil Lamb. Next came the fancy table, where any kind of fancy work might be obtained. These were presided over by Mrs. Arthur Lowe of Portland and Georgia Foster. Then came the driving, Mrs. C. C. Foster and Mrs. John Kemp sold delicious ice cream and cake.

Next came the oyster stew and this was made by Mrs. M. C. Kemp and Mrs. Lewis N. Bean. This was well patronized and was a cool night, and everyone knew that Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Bean could not be beaten in making oyster stew. People came in all directions; some with horses and some with automobiles; some in motor boats and some in rowboats. The crowd was estimated at about two hundred and fifty people. A bountiful dinner was served in the lower hall. Twenty-five candidates took the Pomona degree from North Waterford Grange and one from Rumford Grange. We had the pleasure of listening to a very interesting program in the afternoon, consisting of music, reading from the ladies and speaking from several of the gentlemen. Two Weddings.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. E. Briggs, last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Charles Elmer Hammond and Inez Mabel Briggs were the contracting parties and Rev. D. R. Ford, pastor of the M. E. church, solemnized the union with the single ring service.

Across one corner of the cozy sitting room was a festoon of evergreen and white asters; the same decorations were twined over the entrance door. Potted plants and out flower bouquets were used in the decorations. The bride was prettily dressed in white, wore a dainty, made princess style, trimmed with coronation braid and a lace yoke. She wore a bunch of tiny white asters in her hair. Her traveling suit was brown.

The groom wore a becoming suit of black. Many nice and useful gifts were received.

Immediately after the service, a dainty lunch was served, consisting of ice cream, cake and fancy crackers. The wedding cake was cut by the bride, who served each guest with a generous slice.

Only the immediate family and Mrs. Briggs' brother, Geo. Marshall, were present.

It was intention of the bride and groom to slip off on the evening train, unobserved, and to engage a stable team to come for them just before that train was due. The guests surmised their plan and had teams in readiness with which they followed them to the village, and in and out among the streets until the whistles announced the belated train. Then for a parting good wish and a last good night, showered them with confetti and rice.

Mrs. Hammond is the youngest daughter of George Henry, lately deceased, and Mary E. Briggs, and has always lived at home with the exception of the last few years, when she has been a good deal with her sister, Mrs. Carrie Bird, in Worcester, Mass. She is well known and highly respected throughout this community.

Mr. Hammond is also well known here, having spent his school boy days in this place. Charles has many warm friends here. For the past dozen or more years, he has been in the employ of the G. T. R. R., first as night operator, until now he holds the position of chief clerk in the office at Berlin.

After a two weeks' bridal trip up the line—destination not known—they will return, to make their home at Berlin. Their announcement cards say at home after Sept. 12.

Clarence Leon Ridlon and Leona Belle Penley were very quietly married in their own cozy home last Wednesday evening, Aug. 26, at 7.30. Rev. Isaac B. Macdonald officiated from Berlin, N. H., where she was spending the remainder of her vacation, to perform the wedding service.

Only the bride and groom's parents were present. On account of the recent bereavement, in the death of the bride's brother, J. Irving Penley, everything was made as quiet as possible.

They chose to stay in their home, which they had prettily furnished in the upstairs rent in Mrs. Hanibal Curtis' house, rather than to go away on a wedding journey at this time. Mr. Ridlon is the only son of Geo. W. Ridlon and is mail carrier on Route No. 8. Before this route was established, he was clerk for A. K. Shurtleff for three or four years, thus acquiring quite a good knowledge of the West Paris base ball team.

Mrs. Ridlon is next to the youngest living child of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Penley. She is a graduate of the class of '07, South Paris High School, and since then has taught school. She is quite a gifted student. They are both quite popular, and their many friends wish them much joy and prosperity.

The O. E. S., of which Mr. and Mrs. Ridlon are members, and other friends wished to give her a "kitchen shaver."

On account of the sickness in the family, they put it off until the Tuesday afternoon previous, when a company of about thirty went to the bride's home and quietly left their nice and useful gifts and came away. They also had many other valuable gifts.

Mr. Ridlon's young gentleman friends missed the chance to "ride and old shoe" them off on a wedding trip, so they manufactured a half dozen sign boards and stuck them up around their front yard that night, so that people passing the next morning might know that a newly married couple lived there. Boys will have a little sport with which to express their good wishes.

Something About Roads.
Lucius L. Bartlett says: All roads do not lead to Round pond. More or less being said and printed about good roads and better roads, think the subject was talked up some in town before town meeting. I have not heard so much about it since, but I rise to exclaim that in the sixty years and over that I have been on the earth and traveled back and forth, Lower Main street never has been in so poor condition as it is to-day. To whom it may concern, please take notice and investigate for yourself.

Maine's Marksmen Did Well.

This is what Portland Sunday Times says of Maine marksmen at the National matches at Camp Perry, Ohio.

The Maine men had the honor of standing fourth at the 200-yard slow fire stage and sixth at the rapid-fire stage and shot well up at the other ranges. The skirmish total of 593 (reduced from 611 by three penalties of five points each) was disappointing to a team which was averaging better than 700 in its practice, but no more so to Maine than lots of other teams. Massachusetts, for example, made but 626 and nearly every team took more or less of a tumble. The wind veered from one o'clock to three and shot back and forth from 15 to 25 miles without a second's warning. The Maine wind-sharks "doped" the wind about right and a little more experience in match shooting as a team would have resulted in a good run even under the adverse weather conditions.

But is a Maine team rule to hold no post-mortems after a disappointing score, so the 593 is simply a group of figures to be wiped off the slate by the 1909 team.

The rapid-fire work of the Maine men shows the value of the emphasis placed upon rapid-fire at Brunswick during the preliminary practice at Brunswick prior to departure for Ohio. The individual totals for the teams are as follows:

Name.	S.	E.	E.	S.	E.	Aggregate.
Sgt. Marston	43	36	40	42	37	238
Lt. Weymouth	43	38	43	44	37	245
Sgt. Smith	43	37	43	42	37	245
Sgt. Christie	40	35	40	38	45	200
Sgt. Lebel	38	35	42	43	32	230
Sgt. Lebel	41	34	37	42	32	226
Capt. Field	40	32	38	38	36	204
Capt. Bailey	37	31	35	38	37	193
Capt. Nash	38	28	33	33	37	210
Lt. Daugherty	40	30	44	41	40	254
Sgt. Stiles	40	32	40	40	38	250
Lt. Stiles	41	39	41	43	43	256

Totals.....467 418 478 489 533 499 2914

The 12 shooting members of the team belong to the following organizations: Capt. Nash, Lieut. Stiles, Lieut. Daugherty and Sgt. Marston to Co. D, second infantry, Norway; Lieut. Wentworth and Sgt. Smith, Co. F, first infantry, Sanford; Lieut. Gould and Sgt. Lebel, Co. K, first infantry, Brunswick; Sgt. Christie and Sgt. Bailey, Co. F, second infantry, Dover; Capt. Field, Co. H, first infantry, Lewiston; Sgt. Keating, Co. L, second infantry, Houlton.

The team was captained by Col. D. J. Kelleher of Co. H, first infantry, was team spokesman. The coaching was done by Lieut. Stiles.

In the national individual match this year Lieut. Stiles won high honors for himself and his State by carrying off two gold medals—one for the seventh highest aggregate and the other for the highest aggregate in the slow-fire stage of the match. With the medals he received $55 in cash, $30 for seventh place and $25 for the slow-fire aggregate. His total for the match was 290 which was but 10 points behind first place. A streak of hard luck at the rapid fire cost him five points, which would have landed him in a tie for third place.

In his skirmish run, with which stage the individual was opened, he fired "ten and ten" (ten shots at the kneeling and ten at the lying figure), the former counting four and the latter five) and got 16 hits—seven in the kneeling and nine on the lying figure—a total of 73. In his rapid-fire he made but 32. He then went at the slow fire stage for all he was worth and kept the white disk flashing most of the time as bullets followed bullets. His score in detail was as follows:

200 yards.....4	5	5	5	4	5	4-45
300 yards.....4	5	5	5	5	5	5-45
400 yards.....3	5	5	5	5	5	5-45
500 yards.....4	5	5	5	5	5	5-45
600 yards.....4	5	5	5	5	5	5-45

Total.....153

Rapid fire.....32

Skirmish.....73

Grand aggregate.....290

Nearly all the Maine men shot in the national individual, and while no one but Stiles finished inside the money there were some high scores. Lieut. Wentworth was close up with 280.

Sgt. Marston rolled up a 43 at 200 yards, a 42 at 300, a 40 at 400 and a 45 at 1,000. Sgt. Smith made 248 with a 40 at 200 yards. Sgt. Marston made 271, with a skirmish of 67, and a 40 at 1,000 yards. Sgt. Keating made 262 with a skirmish run of 60, with 46 at 200 yards. Sgt. Christie put up 240, with 46 at 200 yards. Sgt. Lebel made 251. Sgt. Field made 229 with a 47 at 800 yards.

Capt. Nash, who went to Perry two days ahead of the team, won fourth money in the Wimbledon cup match.

In the standing of the different teams Maine was 15th, with 2914 points, U. S. Infantry list, with 3224 points, a difference of 310 points. North Carolina was 50th, with 1004 points.

This is what the Kennebec Journal says: Maine's marksmen did not win the highest honors at the big shoot in Ohio but with only nine National Guard teams ahead of them they were much nearer the top than the bottom of the list.

Mrs. Annie E. Rolfe of Yarmouthville, was in Norway this week. From Yarmouthville, who has been enjoying a week's vacation from his work at O. P. Brooks, resumed his duties Monday morning.

Geo. I. Cummings was deep sea fishing last week. He visited Small Point and went by way of New Meadows Inn. He took along with him his wife and son Charles also Mrs. W. L. Marston and they visited at the Sea Shore cottage of A. Q. Carter and had a great time. He helped haul the nets and saw all kinds of sea inhabitants. Was made more or less sick by "the swell" of the ocean. We make no remarks regarding Mrs. Cummings and young Charles, they can answer for themselves as to the fun of deep sea fishing. Young Charles hooked an 8 pound cod and had a big tussle with it. The fish was saved.

Mrs. Nellie (Vernon) Davis and daughter of Carson City, Nevada, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith last week. Mrs. Davis was born in Greenwood, and married Harry, son of Dr. Higgins, and about 40 years ago they moved to Nevada and for several years edited and published the Carson Appeal. After her husband died she continued to run the paper. She married Sam Davis of that city and for several years past she has had charge of a cattle ranch and her husband has edited a paper. They have six children. They visited here 13 years ago and on this trip she went through the White Mountains and was surprised to find them so small "only foot hills" as compared to the mountains around Carson City. She left Friday to visit relatives in Portland.

"The street sprinkler was 'on deck' Monday morning." For two weeks Main street had been in dust. Every team that passed raised a cloud of dust, nearly to the house tops and the goods in the stores were literally wallowing in dust. It is no wonder Main street wore a smile.

Samuel Knight, Kenneth Wilcox and George Knight caught a turtle that weighed 32½ pounds and was 25½ inches long, body stretch was 24½ inches. They got him on the brook from North pond to Pennessewassee lake. They had been pickering fishing in North pond and caught a twenty-six pickerel. On their return they met the turtle and after a smart fight for half an hour they captured him and brought him to the village. Just as they got him subdued the mob of about the same size appeared and they fought for half an hour. The turtle equal to another fight just as they seized their first prize and left the battlefield.

Base Ball.

Radcliffe, S. Turner Center, O.
Norway and Turner Center played a close and interesting game of ball on the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon. A good crowd was present to see good sport—and they saw it.

Rich, whom everybody supposed was the South Paris pitcher, was on the firing line for the visitors, and his benders were solved to the tune of seven hits, one of catches in right field; Boarse made two neat plays, once catching a man at second and holding a man at third, and again on the same play, getting the man at third.

The home team scored two in the second on two hits, two errors and a passed ball, and one in the seventh on a hit and a wild throw by Rich over second base. Daley, from Lewiston, umpired the game in good shape.

The game was remarkably short, occupying only 1 hour and twenty minutes. The score:

Lumber More Valuable.
It is a striking fact that though lumber prices have been steadily going up during the last half century, the per capita consumption of lumber has also been going up. In 1850, according to the best figures obtainable, the average consumption to each person in the country was 250 feet in 1000 450 feet, and in 1907, 480 feet. This illustrates what has been found true, the world over—that with industrial progress the demand for wood becomes greater and greater.

The Oxford Paper Co.'s mills at Rumford Falls closed Saturday night for one week to reduce the stock on hand in the warehouse, which are considerably over-supplied. Four hundred men are idle. This together with the unemployed hands of the International Paper Co., increases the number of people out of work to 1400.

The men President Roosevelt has asked to act as an investigating committee are Professor L. H. Bailey of the New York College of Agriculture; Henry Wallace of "Wallace's Farmer," Des Moines, Iowa; Frank Kenyon of Agricultural College; Gifford Pinchot of the United States Forest Service, and Walter H. Page, editor of "The World's Work," New York.

W. H. Kelley of Rumford Falls is as far as heard from the tallest man in the State of Maine. He is six feet and ten inches.

GREENWOOD.

Base Ball Tournament.

F. H. Maxfield of Greenwood put before the people a baseball tournament consisting of three games, the first was between North Norway and Greenwood, the second between Greenwood and West Paris, and the third between North Norway and West Paris.

The first game was won by North Norway after a hard fight. The Greenwood team had Foss and Calef of Norway for a battery, while North Norway had Packard and Hunt, both farmers.

Score by Innings.

The second game was won by Greenwood. By looking at both teams and comparing them any one would have thought that West Paris would have been the victor. The Greenwood battery was Calef and Foss; the West Paris Rowe and Adams.

Score by Innings.

West Paris.....0 0 1 2 3 2 1 1 0—10

The third game was between North Norway and West Paris and the people were all betting on West Paris. At the end of the ninth inning before the North Norways came to the bat the West Paris had them 7 to 4. There was but little hope for the North Norway nine. All at once they began to hit the ball in great style and by the time the dust had completely settled around the grounds the North Norways and ran in seven scores. The hitting was led off by H. Hunt's two batters, then L. Emmons' single, Morgan's single, R. Richardson's single and E. Packard's single. Then came Irving Emmons who struck at the first ball thrown with great force but it was called a strike, and the second ball was called a ball for it was too high but the third ball thrown he hit and got a good safe home run.

A Hot Fight On.

The political horizon is peopled by spell-binders, of four or five different parties, each absolutely certain that their party only can save the country from ruin. All joking aside, however, never since we attained our majority, have we seen so much interest in an election. It is predicted that the hottest fight ever waged in the state will be on from now until September 14th, for the control of the state by the two big parties, with chances so evenly balanced that nobody wants to bet very heavy odds on the result.

Gertrude Jenkins of Locke's Mills is visiting a few days at O. G. Whitman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Virgin were the guests of Sylvester Cole, one day recently.

F. W. Waterhouse and family of Paris were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Martin, over Sunday.

There will be a democratic rally at the hall in this place Saturday, September 5th, at eight o'clock in the evening.

R. D. Coburn has bought the house known as the Tubbs' house, formerly owned by the town, and will move into the same early in September.

A party, composed of the families of Charles Swan, Allan Cole, W. C. Emmons and R. D. Coburn, made a trip recently to the ice caves on the Wentworth place in this town.

Your correspondent is confined to the house with a badly sprained knee, sustained at the ball game on Greenwood grounds, Saturday last. We try to possess ourselves in patience and are thankful it is no worse.

Our farmers are busily engaged in hauling their sweet corn to the factory at West Paris. Generally speaking, the crop is far better than an average one, the weather having been very favorable for this product.

All schools in town have commenced except in the Martin district. Our superintendent has had some difficulty in filling the vacancy there. We understand a teacher from Edgecomb has been engaged and the term will begin Monday, September 7th.

We had for guests, Sunday last, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barbour of Westbrook and their little girl, Alice. It was their third attempt at reaching our place. On the first occasion, a rainy Sunday interrupted the trip. The second time they got out of the train at South Paris and put in a whole day, in a strange place, among strangers. Finally, no mistake occurring on the third trip, they reached us in safety.

Our prophetic insight into "events that cast their shadows before" is again justified by results, although later in the day than we had reason to expect. Last spring we declared that no less than three young couples were entertaining serious ideas of hitching up in double harness. The third couple, A. M. Whitman and Alma Hayes, two of our most popular young people, were married at West Paris, August 22d. They held their wedding reception Saturday evening, August 29th, a more extended notice of which will be found elsewhere in the ADVERTISER'S columns.

In the Oxford County G. A. R. delegation to the National Encampment are: Cyrus F. Wardwell, Oxford.
J. C. Jordan, Bethel.
Mr. and Mrs. James H. Johnson, Fryburg.
George W. Whitman, Norway.
Lydia W. Packard, Dixfield.
Louisa A. Downs, Rumford Falls.
Walter G. Whitman, New York.
